SERVICE PERIOD AND SCOPE

Doorlight Demo Brokerage is engaged by Taylor Morgan for the identified acquisition at 48 Redwood Place, Harborfield. This fictional property-specific service record begins August 18, 2026 and ends September 30, 2026 unless ended or extended by written agreement. Services include arranging access, presenting proposals, coordinating retained documents, and communicating transaction dates. Compensation is negotiated between the parties; no rate is described as fixed by law or by a trade association.

COMPENSATION SCHEDULE

The agreed gross calculation is 2.5 percent of the accepted purchase price, not an additional allocation to personal property. At the reference price $760,000.00, the illustrative gross amount is $19,000.00. Internal allocation: 80 percent agent and 20 percent broker before the stated $495 fee. That internal allocation is not a second fee charged to the buyer. Credit any compensation actually received from another agreed source against the amount otherwise payable for the same service; do not count a proposed concession as received.

NOTICES AND DELIVERY

Notices shall be delivered to the receiving party through the representative designated in the agency record, with a copy to the escrow officer when money, dates, title instructions, or possession are affected. A courtesy telephone call does not replace a written notice. Electronic delivery shall include the entire attachment and all referenced continuations; an acknowledgment of receipt does not signify agreement to a proposed change. The sending representative shall retain the transmission time and the receiving address in the correspondence log. A corrected attachment shall identify the earlier attachment it replaces. Statements made during a showing are not incorporated unless reduced to writing and accepted by the parties.

BILLING AND AUTHORITY

The parties shall identify the accepted price and any permitted third-party payment before preparing a final compensation instruction. No commission is calculated in this record from an unaccepted counteroffer. Disputed charges shall be referred to the brokerage before disbursement. The calculation does not authorize a debit, invoice delivery, external accounting entry, or automatic payment by Doorlight's software. The engagement does not include legal representation, loan underwriting, appraisal, or structural inspection.

INCLUDED PROPERTY AND CONDITION

Existing attached lighting, curtain rods, built-in cooking appliances, garage-door opener and two remotes, fixed bathroom mirrors, planted landscaping, and installed irrigation controls are included without separate allocation of price. Seller's freestanding office shelving and movable patio furniture are excluded. Seller shall not substitute an appliance of lesser capacity between inspection and delivery of possession. Manuals and transferable service records in Seller's possession shall be left in the kitchen drawer. No representation is made that a manufacturer's warranty is transferable. Ordinary wear occurring during reasonable residential occupancy is distinguished from a new casualty or the removal of an included fixture.

INVESTIGATION AND CHANGES

Buyer may arrange non-destructive investigations through insured providers with reasonable advance notice. Utilities shall remain available for scheduled inspections, except during an emergency or an interruption outside Seller's control. Intrusive testing, opening walls, and removal of finishes require separate written permission. A request for repairs is a proposal and does not itself amend the price or extend a deadline. Any accepted credit shall identify the amount, purpose, and affected settlement entry. Except for the particular term expressly changed by a signed amendment, provisions of the underlying instrument remain as written. Conflicting instructions shall be referred to the parties before the affected act is performed.

PERFORMANCE AND SETTLEMENT

Delivery of keys shall follow the possession provision, not merely the signing appointment. Escrow shall obtain lender and title instructions applicable to its own work before disbursement. Prorations shown before close are estimates subject to the final settlement calculation; a later corrected tax bill shall be handled as the parties' written instructions provide. A returned document with an omitted initial, incomplete attachment, or unaccepted alteration shall be returned for correction without treating the incomplete entry as consent. Each signatory shall receive a complete counterpart, including incorporated schedules. No representative is authorized by this instrument alone to sign another person's name or change a financing condition.
