NOTICE TO APPLICANT

Harbor Community Lending application HCL-48291; Taylor Morgan; 123 Main Street, Harborfield. The appraisal review desk reports an opinion of value of $850,000.00, effective August 26, 2026, for the subject fee-simple interest described in the appraiser's report. The notice is not the appraisal itself and contains neither a comparable-sales grid nor the appraiser's signed certification. A complete report copy should be requested through the lender's delivery channel.

REVIEW ENTRY AND SCOPE

The notice reflects an appraised value at or above the $850,000.00 purchase price reference submitted with the application. No repair-based value condition is entered in this notice. This does not constitute a structural inspection, a property survey, an insurance replacement-cost estimate, or acceptance of a different contract price. The lender retains its final underwriting and funding conditions notwithstanding the value entry.

APPLICANT CORRESPONDENCE

Please send documents through the lender's secure intake channel and place the application reference on each attachment. Provide every page of an account statement, including a page containing only disclosures, because running balances and ownership information may appear outside the transaction listing. A large transfer between accounts should be accompanied by both sides of the transfer. Do not redact the account holder's name, statement period, or last four digits needed for matching; full account numbers are not reproduced in this copy. Gifts, borrowed funds, and proceeds from an asset sale have different supporting-document requirements. Contact the assigned processor before substituting one source of funds for another.

APPLICANT INQUIRY PROCEDURE

A request to consider a factual correction should identify the report page, alleged error, and supporting evidence. A disagreement with value alone is not a corrected property fact. Do not contact a comparable property's occupants for confidential information on the lender's behalf. Any reconsideration response shall be retained with its date and shall not overwrite the original value notice. No additional appraisal fee is charged on this notice.

CHANGES BEFORE FUNDING

Tell the loan officer promptly about a change of employment, compensation structure, occupancy intention, other financed property, new installment obligation, or a changed purchase agreement. A credit inquiry may require an explanation even if no account was opened. Do not assume that a verbal rate discussion is a rate lock or that a lock remains in effect after its stated expiration. An approved program is not permission to disburse against an incomplete settlement file. The lender's closing desk will compare the final contract, hazard evidence, title instructions, and signed package to the conditions applicable at the time it releases funds.

AMOUNTS AND TIMING

Escrow deposits and annual premiums are different from the monthly payment retained in a servicing account. A payment illustration excludes utilities, maintenance, and assessments not collected by the lender. Daily interest changes with the actual funding date; the estimate assumes the proposed schedule rather than guaranteeing it. Charges paid before closing should be credited only once. If an invoice changes, retain both the original estimate and the revised amount with an explanation of the affected line. Receipt of this correspondence acknowledges delivery only and does not commit the applicant to a loan. Questions about a specific fee should identify its line code and the version being compared.
