APPLICANT CORRESPONDENCE

Please send documents through the lender's secure intake channel and place the application reference on each attachment. Provide every page of an account statement, including a page containing only disclosures, because running balances and ownership information may appear outside the transaction listing. A large transfer between accounts should be accompanied by both sides of the transfer. Do not redact the account holder's name, statement period, or last four digits needed for matching; full account numbers are not reproduced in this copy. Gifts, borrowed funds, and proceeds from an asset sale have different supporting-document requirements. Contact the assigned processor before substituting one source of funds for another.

CASH AND PROJECTED PAYMENTS

Down payment $170,000.00; anticipated deposit credit $25,500.00; loan proceeds $680,000.00. Estimated cash to close $154,165.00 equals down payment plus $9,665.00 costs less anticipated deposit. An anticipated credit is not escrow confirmation. Monthly taxes and insurance allowance $790.00, consisting of $650.00 taxes and $140.00 insurance; no mortgage insurance is assumed at the stated 80 percent loan-to-value. Total illustrative monthly payment $4,976.88. Taxes are estimates, not an assessor determination.

CHANGES BEFORE FUNDING

Tell the loan officer promptly about a change of employment, compensation structure, occupancy intention, other financed property, new installment obligation, or a changed purchase agreement. A credit inquiry may require an explanation even if no account was opened. Do not assume that a verbal rate discussion is a rate lock or that a lock remains in effect after its stated expiration. An approved program is not permission to disburse against an incomplete settlement file. The lender's closing desk will compare the final contract, hazard evidence, title instructions, and signed package to the conditions applicable at the time it releases funds.

AMOUNTS AND TIMING

Escrow deposits and annual premiums are different from the monthly payment retained in a servicing account. A payment illustration excludes utilities, maintenance, and assessments not collected by the lender. Daily interest changes with the actual funding date; the estimate assumes the proposed schedule rather than guaranteeing it. Charges paid before closing should be credited only once. If an invoice changes, retain both the original estimate and the revised amount with an explanation of the affected line. Receipt of this correspondence acknowledges delivery only and does not commit the applicant to a loan. Questions about a specific fee should identify its line code and the version being compared.
