SELLER'S PROPOSED SUBSTITUTION — CLAUSE 2

Counteroffer states purchase price $910,000. This proposal concerns 77 Juniper Lane, Harborfield, escrow HF-2026-48292, and is tendered to Taylor Morgan for written acceptance. Deposit and loan figures in the earlier offer have not been recalculated in this instrument. The recipient shall not assume that the earlier percentage calculations establish the final dollar amounts if this proposal is accepted.

RETURN AND ACCEPTANCE RECORD

Transmitted August 19, 2026 at 14:10 by the listing representative. Requested return: August 20, 2026 at 17:00. Seller proposal signature appears below; buyer acceptance has not been returned in the retained counterpart. No superseding amendment resolves the difference between the $925,000 purchase agreement and this counteroffer. A transmission acknowledgment is retained, but it is not an acceptance of the economic term.

NOTICES AND DELIVERY

Notices shall be delivered to the receiving party through the representative designated in the agency record, with a copy to the escrow officer when money, dates, title instructions, or possession are affected. A courtesy telephone call does not replace a written notice. Electronic delivery shall include the entire attachment and all referenced continuations; an acknowledgment of receipt does not signify agreement to a proposed change. The sending representative shall retain the transmission time and the receiving address in the correspondence log. A corrected attachment shall identify the earlier attachment it replaces. Statements made during a showing are not incorporated unless reduced to writing and accepted by the parties.

RESERVED TERMS

No repair credit, furniture purchase, change of possession, or extension of an inspection deadline is included in this proposal. If an acceptance is returned with an alteration, the alteration must be presented to the other party as a new proposal. The escrow copy is for coordination only until the parties determine the accepted sequence. No officer is instructed to replace the consideration on a deed, loan application, or settlement statement merely upon receipt of this negotiation copy.

INCLUDED PROPERTY AND CONDITION

Existing attached lighting, curtain rods, built-in cooking appliances, garage-door opener and two remotes, fixed bathroom mirrors, planted landscaping, and installed irrigation controls are included without separate allocation of price. Seller's freestanding office shelving and movable patio furniture are excluded. Seller shall not substitute an appliance of lesser capacity between inspection and delivery of possession. Manuals and transferable service records in Seller's possession shall be left in the kitchen drawer. No representation is made that a manufacturer's warranty is transferable. Ordinary wear occurring during reasonable residential occupancy is distinguished from a new casualty or the removal of an included fixture.

INVESTIGATION AND CHANGES

Buyer may arrange non-destructive investigations through insured providers with reasonable advance notice. Utilities shall remain available for scheduled inspections, except during an emergency or an interruption outside Seller's control. Intrusive testing, opening walls, and removal of finishes require separate written permission. A request for repairs is a proposal and does not itself amend the price or extend a deadline. Any accepted credit shall identify the amount, purpose, and affected settlement entry. Except for the particular term expressly changed by a signed amendment, provisions of the underlying instrument remain as written. Conflicting instructions shall be referred to the parties before the affected act is performed.

PERFORMANCE AND SETTLEMENT

Delivery of keys shall follow the possession provision, not merely the signing appointment. Escrow shall obtain lender and title instructions applicable to its own work before disbursement. Prorations shown before close are estimates subject to the final settlement calculation; a later corrected tax bill shall be handled as the parties' written instructions provide. A returned document with an omitted initial, incomplete attachment, or unaccepted alteration shall be returned for correction without treating the incomplete entry as consent. Each signatory shall receive a complete counterpart, including incorporated schedules. No representative is authorized by this instrument alone to sign another person's name or change a financing condition.
