1. PARTIES AND SUBJECT PREMISES

The undersigned residential purchase agreement identifies Taylor Morgan as buyer and Jamie Ellis as seller for 77 Juniper Lane, Harborfield, California, APN 084-221-019. The conveyance includes the appurtenant rights described in the title schedule, subject to the exceptions accepted in writing. The street description is for identification and is not a survey. Buyer intends principal-residence occupancy; no assignment to a different purchaser is authorized by this paragraph.

2. CONSIDERATION AND INITIAL DELIVERY

Purchase price $925,000.00; earnest-money deposit $27,750.00; conventional financing. Buyer shall arrange delivery of the initial deposit within the period stated below. The balance of the price, after credit for confirmed deposit and lender proceeds, shall be delivered through escrow. An anticipated receipt is not treated as a posted credit until the escrow holder confirms it. No seller financing, seller repair allowance, furniture allocation, or separate personal-property price is included in the stated consideration.

NOTICES AND DELIVERY

Notices shall be delivered to the receiving party through the representative designated in the agency record, with a copy to the escrow officer when money, dates, title instructions, or possession are affected. A courtesy telephone call does not replace a written notice. Electronic delivery shall include the entire attachment and all referenced continuations; an acknowledgment of receipt does not signify agreement to a proposed change. The sending representative shall retain the transmission time and the receiving address in the correspondence log. A corrected attachment shall identify the earlier attachment it replaces. Statements made during a showing are not incorporated unless reduced to writing and accepted by the parties.

3. SCHEDULE INCORPORATED BY REFERENCE

Offer date: August 18, 2026. Initial deposit due: August 21, 2026. Inspection period ends: August 29, 2026. Appraisal review date: September 3, 2026. Loan contingency date: September 5, 2026. Disclosure review date: September 7, 2026. Anticipated walk-through: September 14, 2026. Close of escrow: September 22, 2026, subject to subsequent written amendment. A calendar entry or inspection booking does not constitute removal of a contingency; the applicable signed notice must identify the right being removed.

INCLUDED PROPERTY AND CONDITION

Existing attached lighting, curtain rods, built-in cooking appliances, garage-door opener and two remotes, fixed bathroom mirrors, planted landscaping, and installed irrigation controls are included without separate allocation of price. Seller's freestanding office shelving and movable patio furniture are excluded. Seller shall not substitute an appliance of lesser capacity between inspection and delivery of possession. Manuals and transferable service records in Seller's possession shall be left in the kitchen drawer. No representation is made that a manufacturer's warranty is transferable. Ordinary wear occurring during reasonable residential occupancy is distinguished from a new casualty or the removal of an included fixture.

INVESTIGATION AND CHANGES

Buyer may arrange non-destructive investigations through insured providers with reasonable advance notice. Utilities shall remain available for scheduled inspections, except during an emergency or an interruption outside Seller's control. Intrusive testing, opening walls, and removal of finishes require separate written permission. A request for repairs is a proposal and does not itself amend the price or extend a deadline. Any accepted credit shall identify the amount, purpose, and affected settlement entry. Except for the particular term expressly changed by a signed amendment, provisions of the underlying instrument remain as written. Conflicting instructions shall be referred to the parties before the affected act is performed.

PERFORMANCE AND SETTLEMENT

Delivery of keys shall follow the possession provision, not merely the signing appointment. Escrow shall obtain lender and title instructions applicable to its own work before disbursement. Prorations shown before close are estimates subject to the final settlement calculation; a later corrected tax bill shall be handled as the parties' written instructions provide. A returned document with an omitted initial, incomplete attachment, or unaccepted alteration shall be returned for correction without treating the incomplete entry as consent. Each signatory shall receive a complete counterpart, including incorporated schedules. No representative is authorized by this instrument alone to sign another person's name or change a financing condition.
